Go Abroad in the School of Design and Human Environment

SDHE has many students involved in international experiences, and for good reason. An international experience can provide students with necessary skills to work effectively with an increasingly diverse U.S. population and global job market. Employers in fields related to DHE: apparel design, interior design, graphic design and merchandising management, value the skills and experiences gained by students who study abroad. There is an international experience that will work for every SDHE student.

What types of international experiences can I participate in?

• Study Abroad:

SDHE majors may study abroad in an intensive field-based program or at a variety of international English-speaking schools where they may focus on their baccalaureate core and SDHE major requirements and interests. Some examples include Australia, New Zealand, England, Scotland, Italy, and India. Students may also study in another country to learn a foreign language or to gain cultural experience, not necessarily taking SDHE requirements.

• IE3 Global Internships:

IE3 Global Internships facilitate international internships for SDHE students around the world in such areas as apparel design, interior design, graphic design and merchandising management. Students may generally do IE3 Internships starting in their junior year, and most financial aid and scholarships may be used to pay for these internships. During IE3 Internships, students can earn up to 12 credits per term at OSU.

• International Degree:

Students planning to study a foreign language may want to consider the prestigious OSU International Degree (ID). The ID is a unique undergraduate major obtainable only as a second degree. In addition to the students' major requirements, the ID candidate must: (1) take an additional 32 credits; (2) demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language equal to the completion of the fourth year; (3) spend a minimum of one ten-week term abroad on an approved program (IE3 Global Internships, study abroad, or independent research projects can count for this), and (4) complete a senior thesis. International Degree students can also get special funding for their research abroad.

• SDHE Study Tours:

SDHE offers unique opportunities for students to travel to foreign countries on faculty-led study tours having specific professional focuses. Some examples of the past study tours include Art and Architecture of Western Europe Study Tour, Art and Architecture Study Tour in Italy, and Hong Kong Fashion Week Study Tour. By participating in Study Tours, students may earn 1-6 credits per term and up to 16 credits total at OSU.

"I am integrating and performing new influential techniques for my career as a designer. I am living a dream and I look forward to the rest of my stay in the beautiful city of Florence and grand country of Italy."
-Leo Soto, Design Intern

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCES CAN HELP YOU...

- Learning about international perspectives and gain breadth in study in the SDHE fields
- Gaining research experience in different perspectives and approaches to SDHE fields
- Gaining new professional skills
- Learning about international perspectives
- Improving your language skills
- Expanding your cross-cultural communication and problem-solving skills
- Globalizing your world view
- Preparing for work in an increasingly diverse and international workplace

Can I afford an international experience?

Yes! If going abroad is a priority, there is generally a way to make it affordable. Early planning for international experiences helps students make cost-effective program decisions, and it also helps them prepare their finances through savings, scholarships, and financial aid. There is a great deal of variation in costs between programs, and students should carefully consider all of their options before making a decision. Students can apply financial aid and scholarships to approved international programs and, in some cases, financial aid eligibility will increase to cover additional expenses. When comparing the cost of programs abroad, be sure to look at the estimated costs of attending OSU for living and tuition. In many cases the cost of an international opportunity can be comparable or not much more than attending OSU, and the difference can be made up with scholarships or financial aid. The latest estimates for attending OSU can be found at: financialaid.oregonstate.edu/review_costofattendance

Will it take me longer to graduate if I go abroad?

With planning, students can complete an undergraduate degree in four years which could involve up to a year of education abroad experiences.

STUDENTS WHO CHOOSE TO GO ABROAD MAY ALSO BE ELIGIBLE FOR ADDITIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS:

- Students can apply for scholarships through the International Programs Office.
- Students who meet certain criteria such as studying specific languages or being from a small town in Oregon can apply for additional scholarships.
- All OSU students can apply to the OSU Research Office for URISC (Undergraduate Research, Innovation, Scholarship, & Creativity) grants to support their undergraduate research abroad. See the URISC Website research.oregonstate.edu/incentive/undergraduate-research-innovation-scholarship-creativity-urisc for details.
- International Degree students can seek additional funding through the International Programs Office for their experience abroad. More information about these scholarships can be found at international.oregonstate.edu/degree/scholarships
- All OSU students can apply for numerous national awards that offer larger scholarships. These scholarships are competitive and often have early deadlines so planning ahead is essential. Contact the International Programs Office for more information.

When should I go abroad?

- Freshman Year: Students should begin planning for a future study abroad or IE3 Internship. Summer after freshman year is the earliest time.
- Sophomore Year: Students can study abroad for the entire year or for a single term.
- Sophomore/Junior Summer: Students can study abroad for the summer if the school of interest offers it.
- Junior Year: Students could do an international experience for one, two, or three terms. Students should plan in advance with guidance from their SDHE advisor in order to ensure timely completion of their degree.
- Junior/Senior Summer: Students can study abroad or do an IE3 Global Internship.
- Senior Year: Students can study abroad or do an IE3 Global Internship. Consultation with their advisor prior to participation is strongly recommended. It is generally not a good idea to go abroad the last term of senior year.
- Senior Summer: Some students choose to go abroad during their senior summer. In particular, students have done an IE3 Global Internship to cap off their undergraduate career. Students can still walk in the Spring as long as they complete their coursework for graduation over the summer.

How do I select an international program?

- Start planning now. Begin to plan at least six months in advance of going abroad. Give yourself time to research programs and talk to advisors and students who have gone abroad to the site(s) you are interested in. It is never too early to start planning.
- Set goals. There is not one program best suited for all students. The best one for you depends on your specific needs and wants. If you plan to study abroad, one important consideration is whether you want to study a language, focus on your major, minor, electives, or Baccalaureate Core courses.
- Prioritize your goals. Consider your long-term academic and professional goals, as well as your on-campus degree requirements. Study abroad courses may count toward courses in your major, while internships give you upper-division credits and a valuable professional experience.
- Prepare academically. You may need to take language or other prerequisite courses for your chosen program. You should also talk to your academic advisor about the timing of when you take sequences or single-term courses related to progress in your major. IE3 Internships are open to juniors and seniors. Students can study abroad as sophomores.

What are my first and next steps?

IE3 GLOBAL INTERNSHIPS STEPS

1. View the online First Steps presentation:

2. Research internships

- Check the list of IE3 Global Internship positions at the back of this brochure.
- Research IE3 Global Internships: international.oregonstate.edu/ea/students/international-internships/ie3-global-internships

Use the descriptions to find out more about the internship site – type and size of organization, position requirements, length and timing, etc.

- Come up with a list of several internship options that look good to you.

3. Talk to an academic advisor in your department

- Make a plan for the timing of your internship, based on your program requirements and availability of your major courses.

4. Complete the pre-advising form by following the instructions provided in the First Steps presentation and email with your availability or bring to your Pre-advising (peer-advising appointment) with an

“I’ve had the opportunity to do much more traveling than I was expecting to while I’ve been here. I took weekend trips to Rome, Cinque Terre, London, Venice and the southern coast, including Sorrento and Pompeii. We’ve done day trips to places such as Florence, Pisa, Volterra, Brolio Castle, and Assisi.”

International Ambassador.

5. Meet with an education abroad advisor (to be scheduled following your Pre-advising meeting) at OSU GO to discuss questions, applications and other information about each program.

6. Application

- Fill out the OSU GO application by clicking the ‘apply now’ button on the OSU GO internship page.
- There is a second application found on IE3 Global’s website

specific to your internship

- Take note of application deadlines. (Deadlines for IE3 Global Internships are generally two terms prior to departure.
- Application deadlines can be found at website referred to in step two.
- Applications typically include recommendation forms, essays, a current resume and college transcripts.
- Plan to start your application one month before it is due.

STUDY ABROAD STEPS

1. View the online First Steps presentation to learn the basics of education abroad: types of programs, credits, scholarships and financial aid. oregonstate.edu/instruct/dce/idea/fs/
2. Check the list of study abroad options in this document, research programs you are interested in at the International Programs website: international.oregonstate.edu/osugo/programs/search and/or come to University Plaza for any questions to be answered by ambassadors.
3. Talk to an academic advisor in your department
 - Make a plan for the timing of your study abroad, based on your program requirements and availability of your major courses.
4. Complete the pre-advising form by following the instructions provided in the First Steps presentation and email with your availability or bring to your Pre-advising (peer-advising appointment).

5. After you've attended a Pre-advising meeting, schedule an appointment with a study abroad advisor by calling 541-737-3006 or following your Pre-advising meeting with the help of an ambassador. The advisor can answer your questions regarding further site specific information and the application process.

6. Application

- Fill out the OSU GO application by clicking the 'apply now' button on the specific OSU GO program page.
- Complete all items on your dashboard
- Take note of application deadlines. Each program has a specific application deadline. Deadlines are typically six months before the start of the program. Application deadlines can be found on each program webpage.
- Plan to start your application one month before it is due.

- There is a second application required. This will be found on the program provider's website. Follow the link listed on the OSU GO program page.

7. Final Course Selection

- Research specific courses that would be offered at the foreign university during your time abroad. Find out what an average course load is for students at the foreign university.
- Fill out an Academic Planning form found at: international.oregonstate.edu/osugo/academic-resources/academic-planning-form and make an appointment with your Academic Advisor to discuss what you have come up with.

Finalize your course plan before you leave and keep in contact with your Academic Advisor if you have any questions while abroad.
