

INTO OSU REDUCED COURSE LOAD (RCL) – ACADEMIC DIFFICULTIES

All international students are required by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) to register for and complete a full course of study each academic term.

Federal regulations do allow a one-time exception to full-time enrollment per degree/program level, based on documented academic difficulties. Given that the INTO OSU programs provide support for English language and academic preparation, a reduced course load for academic difficulties may only be approved for the following reason:

- Improper course level placement (Eligible any term during an education level if someone is placed incorrectly)

During the term for which a student is authorized to reduce his or her course load, they must be enrolled for a minimum of 9 credits if a General English or Academic English student and a minimum of 6 credits if an Undergraduate or Graduate Pathways student. If approved for an Academic RCL the student must resume a full course of study beginning the next available term.

Please note that a reduced course load CANNOT be approved for financial reasons, unavailability of a course, or an anticipated poor grade.

This completed form must be received by the Office of International Services (OIS) no later than a week prior to the end of the term for which the request applies. Failure to meet this deadline may cause the student to fall out of immigration status, resulting in the need to apply for reinstatement.
